EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the Claims

In claim 10: line 5, after "signals", "."(period) has been replaced with -- , -- (comma), since this was clearly intended.

In the Specification

Page 7: line 3, after "a", -- circuit diagram -- has been inserted; and line 13, "Figs." has been changed to -- Fig. --, since these are believed to be intended.

Page 9: line 3, "modular" has been replaced with -- modulator -- to be consistent with the illustration noted in Fig. 1.

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Best reference noted is Ginzburg et al. The latter teaches an apparatus that includes modulator drivers for receiving demultiplexd high-speed binary data signals, through four channels, to be processed through the communication system by first modulating ( encoding) binary data signals in each of the four channels, and then demodulating (decoding) them later during the process before multiplexing them into a single high-speed stream of binary data signals. The light wave modulator of the present invention, as recited in the broadest independent claim 1, is driven by a processor controlled modulator driver, which driver is for receiving multiplexed binary data signals and for generating high fidelity variable gain output signals with a low level of over and undershoot and having a high extinction ratio in response to multiplexed binary data signals. In view of the foregoing, it is noted the two inventions contain diverging subject matter.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
